Newsletter Spotlight

The project Eco-researchTM of Forum for Medical Ethics Society (FMES) is one of the ten proposals from the low- and middle-income countries to receive the WHO-TDR grant to improve the community engagement in implementation research context. The project aims in improving the engagement of communities in research in Tuberculosis and Mental health to enhance healthcare delivery.

Two public health interventions namely, RATIONS and TeaLeaf have collaborated with FMES, on this project.

As a part of this project, a Witness Seminar was conducted by focussing on patients' involvement in public health implementation, specifically emphasising the TB care initiatives.

FMES was honoured to have Dr Debabar Banerji for the Witness Seminar who spoke about his critical reflections on the evolution of the National Tuberculosis Program (NTP) over the past few decades.

Indian Journal of Medical Ethics (IJME) is published by the Forum for Medical Ethics Society (FMES) since 1993. It is a multi-disciplinary journal of bioethics, healthcare ethics and humanities. It is also committed to maintaining editorial independence, from the publisher as well as by avoiding financial dependence that could create conflict of interest. In addition, we are striving to keep the IJME online free and open-access. Therefore, the IJME/FMES need support through donations and grants from individuals and non-profit foundations. Donations/grants are solicited only from Indian individuals and entities as Indian laws do not permit a journal to receive donations/grants from foreign sources.

However, foreign as well as Indian readers/authors may wish to support the journal by voluntary payment of a fee in the following manner:

- By paying or Gifting subscriptions to the print or soft PDF copies of the journal;
- By paying a fee of any amount for full-text views or PDF download of any article from the IJME website;
- By paying article processing charges of any amount on publication as affordable to the readers/authors.

FMES is registered under the Societies Registration Act, 1860 and the Bombay Public Trusts Act, 1950. Donations are eligible for tax exemption under Section 80G of the Income Tax Act, 1961 For more details on how to support us, write to admin@ijme.in or visit our website www.ijme.in/subscribe/
